Involvement and Equal Opportunities - Professional development and the management of Employees are based on the principle of equal opportunities;

Involving and being involved means listen to people without prejudices, understand their expectations and needs. We do not consider ever a person only for what he/she is, but especially for what he/she might become. We Inform all of our goals and achievements and communicate even the simplest ideas: they could change into a unique opportunity and a great success. It is important to convey a strong message to people working with us: the company. The company is everyone's business: we always use the word "Us" instead of "I. We must be proud to belong to a great organisation.

The recognition of the results achieved, the professional potential and personal skills are essential criteria for career advancement and salary increase, in the continuous and systematic comparison with the market. Combustion and Energy S.r.l. commits to preserve a non-discriminatory working environment. Teasing based upon sex, sexual orientation, religious beliefs, race, age, disability status, trade union association or political affiliation will not be tolerated. The criteria used in the recruitment, promotion, access to training, career progression, are exclusively related to work performance and merit. Combustion and Energy S.r.l. is committed to ensuring a safe and healthy workplace, to be solidarity-inspired and responsible towards the environment, comply with all laws and regulations concerning the environment, safety and health. We must strive to continuously reduce the consumption of energy and water, to use less paper and less fuel, to reduce noise in all its forms, to keep down the production of waste and to manage the contaminated products in the most appropriate manner.

Professional development and protection of labour - Combustion and Energy S.r.l. agrees to make available to its employees adequate tools and opportunities for professional growth. Combustion and Energy S.r.l. agrees not to engage staff who work against their will, or that it is not free to terminate the employment relationship, not to engage child labour (children under 16 years), not to employ young workers (boys under the age of 18 years) in) in unhealthy or dangerous situations , nor during school time. Combustion and Energy S.r.l. banishes any verbal, physical or psychological violence toward any individual inside or outside the company. On this basis, we choose to work only with company providing services and material that do not go against these principles.

Concreteness and initiative – we take care of the practical aspects, we are determined, we pursue an evidence-based policy, we try to plan whatever is possible to avoid problems and time loss. We always check the cost-benefit ratio of the ideas web ring and the project we develop. We give order and continuity to our work. In Combustion and Energy S.r.l. there is only room for dynamic and self-starter people. Vitality and energy are at the basis of Combustion and Energy S.r.l.'s proper functioning. No one should ever give excuses for not doing the work. Everyone should be an example for the others. Dynamism is contagious: we always have to be an example for all.

Responsibility and Delegation - Awareness to account for one's and other's actions, solve problems without transferring the burden to others. If responsibility is an inconvenience, this means that you don't have all the necessary knowledge to take it; you don't have to be discouraged nor refuse responsibility, but simply get up and get the necessary knowledge. With the growth of our company, it becomes increasingly necessary to delegate responsibilities and encourage people to take their own initiatives. To do this, you need a good deal of tolerance: people to whom we have delegated authority and responsibility, if good ones, will do the job in their own way. Let people make mistakes if we want them to grow. The important thing is not persisting in error.

Humility and willingness to learn – Take nothing for granted or already known. Never have any kind of presumption, being able to recognize our own limits. We have to make the most of every experience and always questioning ourselves. Transfer our knowledge to others helps the others and us, too. From the contact with external people, we always try to get the exterior, we always try to get the most information. We conserve and grow the curiosity. We grow people. Training is the investment we do on our major resource: ourselves.

Team Playing - It is important to feel part of a team and not "single payers". The team wins, not the individual. We should never forget that our job influences our colleagues' one. The team must meet periodically to solve problems and set out objectives. The team is a group in which the roles are well defined and there is a trainer who organises. In the eye of the customer, it is always the company that works well, not the single.

Common rules - Combustion and Energy S.r.l. does not support any political party or sport club and does not tolerate any proclaim or events regarding whatever adopted position. Our company does not tolerate the display of posters/calendars with sexual background, vulgar, obscene. Combustion and Energy S.r.l. adheres to the requirements on protection of employees' health and safety at work. Abuse of alcohol or drugs is not tolerated.

External Collaborators - Sales agents, consultants, representatives, independent contractors, temporary external workers and suppliers are required to observe the same standards of conduct for the employees in our company when they conduct business with or on our behalf. No external collaborator is authorised, indirectly or through agents, to take any action that is not allowed by Company policies.

C – External relations

Relations with customers - Commercial fairness is a key factor for developing and maintaining profitable and lasting relationships with customers. It is extremely important that we engage only with promises that we can keep. Customers are always our top priority, we listen to their needs. The personal relationship with customers creates more value. Frequent visits to the customers further reinforce and optimize the relationship and the confidence. We should always remember that the customer pays our salary.

Relations with Suppliers – It is extremely important that we are committed to conducting extensive surveys before entry before engaging suppliers, sub suppliers, subcontractors, artisans and external services' suppliers. From their quality of products and processes depends, to a great extent , our quality too. The price is not the only discriminating factor, and in many cases it is not even the most important factor.

Information – It is strictly forbidden to divulge any communication of confidential information regarding strategic plans, sales prices, financial information, product designs, information related to negotiations, agreements or business relationships between our company and others, financial information about the employee relating to strategic plans, sales prices, financial information about the employee, software, trade secrets, patents, trademarks and similar information from customers or suppliers, to any people or organisation, directly or indirectly. Our company believes that its own network resources are a strategic asset, our policy aims at our network resources by implementing security checks to prevent the unwanted disclosure, amendment or destruction of information not accessible to the public, the interruption in the service of process od the information provided to users and the theft of company resource. All the employees are requested to ensure that the use of the company's IT resources, included e-mail and other online resources, the use of hardware and software are in line with the objectives of our business activity . Our company is committed to respecting the confidentiality and privacy of customers and employees. It's each employee's responsibility to respect the privacy of customers and colleagues.

Fraud, theft, presents, offer of money and conflict of interest - Our work activities must reflect the values of honesty, loyalty, reliability, fairness, solidarity with others and a sense of responsibility. Any act that involves fraud, theft, misappropriation, means also take commercial decisions with honesty and integrity, on the basis of objective elements such as: costs, quality, value, service and ability to meet the on going obligations assumed. Therefore our employees cannot accept or offer gifts, money, entertainment, or other gratuities or personal favours; should any gift reach the seat of the company, it will be collected and delivered to Institutions with the aim of helping the poor and needy people. All the employees should refrain from any action or relationship that might conflict with the company's interests. Conflicts of interest arise when the employer uses its position for personal profit or when the employee's personal interest conflict with the company's ones.
